

Picking App Sequence Diagram Author: John Fleming

BASIC COURSE:

The system displays the Picking Ready page. When the picker clicks the Next Order button, the system displays a Customer's order on the Order page. When the employee scans a product from the order, the system displays the Successful scan message. Once the employee has scanned all the products in the order, the system displays the Review Order page. When the Employee clicks the Finish Order button, the system displays the Picking Ready page again.

ALTERNATIVE COURSES:

Picker not logged in: The system invokes the Login use case.

No available orders: If there are no available orders when the employee click the Next Order button, the system display the No available orders message.

Invalid scan: If a scan fails or the employee scans an item not on the order, then the system displays the Invalid scan message.
